CLEVER women demand all they pay for. If they pay for a yard of cloth they are not satisfied with thirty-two inches. But some do not secure the tea they pay for. You measure cloth. Let us tell you how to test tea. Put a single spoonful into a cup of boiling water, cover and let stand for three minutes; then decant into another cup, and drink it clear. Now submit Chase & Sanborn's "Original Package" teas to the same test. That is all!

BEST FOR THE BOWELS
An Ingenious Treatment by which Drunk-ards are Being Cured Daily in Spite of Themselves.
No Nauseous Doses. No Weakening of the Nerves. A Pleasant and Positive Cure for the Liqueur Habit.
It is now generally known and under-stood that Drunkenness is a disease and not weakness. A body filled with poi-son, and nerves completely shattered by periodical or constant use of intoxicat-ing liquors, requires an antidote capable of neutralizing and eradicating this poi-son, and destroying the craving for intox-icants. Sufferers may now cure them-selves at home without publicity or loss of time from business by using this WON-DERFUL GOLD CURE which has been perfected after many years of close study and treatment of inebriates. The faith-ful use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guar-anteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how long a drinker. Our rec-ords show the marvelous transformation of thousands of Drunkards into sober, industrious and upright men.
This remedy is in no sense a nostrum but is a specific for this disease only and is so skillfully devised and prepared that it is thoroughly soluble and pleas-ant to the taste, so that it can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it. Thousands of Drunkards have cured themselves with this priceless remedy, and as many more have been cured and made temperate men by having friends administer one of our bottles of GOLD CURE and relatives without their knowledge in coffee or tea, and believe to-day that they discontinued drinking of their own free will. DO NOT WAIT. Do not be de-luded by current and misleading "improvements." Drive out the disease at once and for all time. The "HOME GOLD CURE" is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, thus placing within reach of everybody a treatment more effectual than others costing $25 to $50. Full directions accompany each package. Special advice by skilled phy-sicians when requested without extra charge. Send prepaid to any part of the world on receipt of One Dollar. Address DEPT. A500, EDWIN B. GILES & COM-PANY, 2330 and 2332 Market Street, Philadelphia.
All correspondence strictly confiden-tial.

General Debility

Day in and out there is that feeling of weakness that makes a burden of itself. Food does not strengthen. Sleep does not refresh. It is hard to do, hard to bear, what should be easy—vitality is on the ebb, and the whole system suffers. For this condition take

Hood's Sarsaparilla
It vitalizes the blood, gives vigor and tone to all the organs and functions, and is positively unequalled for all run-down or debilitated conditions.

Music—Misses Latham and Latham. Piano duet—Misses Latham and Latham. Vocal solo—Misses Latham and Latham.

One of the most hotly contested games of ball ever played on the Hebron campus was played, last Saturday, by Bridgton and Hebron Academy. It was witnessed by a large and enthusiastic audience, a large party coming over from Bridgton. The Bridgtons soon got the lead and the game stood 8 to 1 in favor of Bridgton till the eighth inning when the Hebrons got two scores on a heavy strike by Sessions, making the score 3-3.

In the 9th Bridgton got 1 and Hebron failed to score giving the game to Bridgton 4 to 1. James Carlton of Hebron out of town who witnessed the game were the principal of Bridgton Academy and a large party of Bridgton students.

Lawyer Dyer of Buckfield, J. Bennett Pike of the 97 class, W. J. Wheeler, South Paris, the Misses Hayes and Andrew J. Hayes, Herbert Flood and Chester Wilham of Oxford.

Pomona Grange.

On Tuesday the Oxford County Pomona was held with the Hebron Grange. It was such a fine day that in spite of the fact that many of the farmers were not through planting, there was quite a large delegation present.

At about 10:30 the Grange was opened with C. H. George the overseer in the chair, the Master, G. W. Q. Perham, was unable to attend on account of a broken leg. Nearly every subordinate of the Grange in Oxford County was represented and several were present from East Auburn and other Granges in Androscoggin County.

After music by Hebron Grange choir and the transaction of some business, the fifth degree was conferred on 10 candidates.

At 12 o'clock dinner was served in the dining hall below, Hebron Grange furnishing beans and coffee.

The afternoon meeting was opened by music by Hebron Grange and was followed by discussion by the ladies of the question, How shall the farmer and family best spend their vacation, opened by Sister Emma Phillips of Hebron Grange, followed by Sisters Allen, Perry, Given and others.

After the transaction of other business, Alida George and Emily Conant sang a duet in a very acceptable manner.

Then came the event of the day, an address by State Lecturer, Thompson. Mr. Thompson delighted his audience for over an hour with a paper from History. He was then obliged to leave to take the train.

F. S. Pike, the blind singer of Hebron, then delighted the audience with a song, after which more business was transacted, then with a song from Hebron Grange choir, Oxford County Grange was closed.

Schools in most of the districts close this week. That in No. 5, taught by Daisy W. Cushman, will keep one week longer.

Margaret L. Everett, who is teaching at West Minot, attended Pomona Grange, Tuesday, and with five of her scholars took the fifth degree.

The disputants in the prize debate, are Ada F. Lovejoy, Myra S. Kallcock, Elsie M. Bryant, Danno D. Johnson, Floyd Philbrick and Clarence J. Fernald.

An orchestra will be in attendance, Tuesday evening, at the reception, and during the evening presentation of class gifts will be made by Robert L. Emery.

It is hoped that at least two hundred and fifty may gather at the alumni dinner, Wednesday, there and then to talk and listen to words of cheer and hope and memory.

There was a game of ball on the Hebron campus, last Monday afternoon, between the South Paris high school and the Hebron Academy second nine, resulting in a victory of 8 to 6 in favor of Hebron. Sessions umpire.

East Sumner—Dea. W. H. Eastman, Andover, Dea. W. H. Eastman, wife.

Rumford—H. F. Smith, acting pastor; Amos O. Elliott and wife.

Maine Missionary Society—Rev. Charles Harburt of Portland, secretary; Ellen M. Plagge, evangelist, now working in Western Oxford.

American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions—O. S. Daniels, D. D., of Boston.

American Missionary Association—Rev. Geo. H. Guttersen of Boston.

The opening sermon was by Rev. Bates S. Rideout and was in his usual vigorous, straight-forward and shoulder style. He took for his theme: "How can a church do a larger and better work in the community?" He said:

First—Manage the business and financial affairs of the church on business principles.

Second—Care for the children.

Third—Have no factions.

Fourth—Members must live pure lives.

The ladies of the parish served a dinner in the church vestry.

At 2 o'clock, conference resumed with devotional services led by brother Smith of Rumford.

The first topic—"The relation of the church to the present time"—was considered by Rev. Arthur Varley. He believes that the mission of the church is not to discuss philosophy or to tell men what to eat or how to vote. The church should put the love of God and His righteousness into the hearts of men and then let them judge for themselves of the things of earthly life.

Rev. Dr. Brooks took up the second topic—"Co-operative Congregationalism in Oxford county, how far is it practicable?" He advocated a system of visiting between the churches. The brethren of one should drive over to the next and have a good time at prayer-meeting, and the visit should be returned by goodly numbers.

Rev. W. C. Adams spoke on the third topic—"How can the church best reach men?" He called for less of the technicalities of theology and for more direct dealings with the troubles of the day.

The treatment of these subjects was followed by a general discussion.

Rev. Abel W. Pottle, pastor of South Paris Methodist church, was introduced to the conference.

Rev. Charles Harburt talked a few moments about the needs of the work at Upton and along the Magalloway river. Two little churches must be built, and Mr. Gifford, who is working there, needs more support than the Maine Missionary Society can give at present. He asked point-blank for an increase of fifty dollars in the conference contributions for this work, and it was evident that he would get it.

The afternoon closed with a woman's missionary meeting, Mrs. F. S. Chandler of Bethel presiding. The address was by Miss Plagge, who told of work in the rural sections of our home-land. She is a good speaker and makes her subject interesting.

Supper was served in the vestry. Tuesday evening, after a praise service participated in by the male quartet choir of the church, Rev. Dr. Daniels addressed the conference on the work of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions.

Wednesday morning, conference sessions were resumed with devotional services conducted by brother Smith of Rumford.

At the business session it was voted to hold the next annual meeting of the conference with the Gilead church in October.

Rev. W. C. Adams of Gorham and Rev. Frederick Newport of Oxford to be the preachers. Committee of arrangements—Rev. W. H. Hotze, Rev. W. C. Adams and Dea. Henry Wright.

The customary votes of thanks were passed.

The reports of the churches were encouraging.

The report of the missionary, Rev. Frank E. Rand, was so interesting that a good deal of time was taken with it. He regularly visits some forty places—Mexico, Roxbury and Byron circuit; Bethel circuit; and Magalloway circuit in Oxford County, and is going to each twice has involved more than four thousand miles travel in the last twelve months.

In Union conference there is good prospect of reviving the Sweden church. The New Hampshire work along the Maine line by the Upper Androscoggin valley has been transferred from the New Hampshire Missions to the charge of the Maine Missionary Society.

At present the Society is making for a change from summer supplies to regular pastorate through the year. More than $2,400 in cash, materials and labor has been pledged for building houses of worship at Magalloway Plantation and Wilson's Mills.

Mr. Gilead and Shelburne Wilson's Mills have been united and become more than half self-supporting, besides charges have been added for repairs and improvements on church property.

Mr. Hotze, who has been at Gilead and Shelburne for year past, will remain there another year.

The conference voted to recommend that the total assessed upon its churches for Oxford County mission work be increased from $250 to $300.

Rev. George E. Guttersen of Boston gave an address on the work of the American Missionary Association, devoting his time mostly to the missions among alien peoples in our own land.

Dinner was served in the vestry and there were no long-faced Christians seated about the tables.

The closing sermon was by Rev. Arthur Varley, from Matthew xii, 6, a strong appeal for more spirituality in church work.

The conference closed with the Lord's Supper.

supper, served by Rev. Henry Farrar and Rev. W. C. Adams.

Rural Free Deliveries.

Saturday afternoon, postmaster Moses P. Stiles heard from Washington in regard to those long-wanted rural free deliveries. Both routes are approved and deliveries will begin on July 1st.

Postmaster Stiles now has to make a complete list, by families, of all the persons living on the routes, and canvass a sale of delivery and collection boxes.

The drop letter rate for mail going on or off a free delivery route is 2 cents per ounce, not 1 cent as where there is no free delivery.

Carriers will deliver before returning to post-office any mail which they may gather that may be so delivered.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jones and family are at Rangeley lakes.

Mrs. S. H. Wetherbee and Leah are to spend a few weeks at the Alpine House, Gorham, N. H.

Letter to Geo. A. Cole.

Norway, Me.

Dear Sir: If you buy paint by the gallon, look out for short measure. There are great businesses founded on ten per cent short. It is queer that a man or woman should be so stupid as to be deceived so; but he does and it does. Look out.

But that isn't all to look out for. Some give full measure, and cheat in the quality. What do you paint for the looks? or to keep your house from rotting? Both, of course.

A big hotel-man painted Devoe eight years ago; was going to paint it again—eight years is a good long time for a hotel, you know—struck a bargain; saved five cents a gallon; and missed Devoe.

Poor fellow! There isn't an oz. of lead in his paint—we don't know how good or bad it is; but there isn't any lead in it.

Yours truly,
F. W. Devor & Co.

Graduation at Norway.

The High School Class of 1901 Goes Out into the World.

That the people of Norway take a lively interest in the welfare of the rising generation is evidenced by the generous appropriation. And on the occasions of the annual public graduations of a class from the high school, the opera house will be thronged to the doors with our townspeople eager to watch the progress and note the capabilities of the rising generation. So on Thursday evening, June 6, despite sweltering in the heat, many stood up and for three solid hours watched and listened at the graduation of a class numbering fourteen.

The stage and proscenium had been beautifully decorated and, of course, the color scheme was crimson and white, the class colors. The proscenium was bordered with twisted lines of the colors set with rosettes of the same and the overhead drops and the wings were draped in like material. At the back, a triple arch bore the motto—"Non nobis solum." Not for ourselves alone.

Through the central arch the graduates came for their parts in the evening. The sides were banked with lovely plants.

The music which interspersed the evenings fulfillment of purpose was by Stearns' orchestra reinforced by a couple of players from Lewiston. The instrumentation was:

Violoncello—F. Stearns.
Violin—Arthur R. Norworthy.
Bass viol—C. M. Plummer.
Tuba—William McArthur.
Clarinet—Frank Kimball.
Cornet—Frank P. Knapp, Archibald Slack.
Trombone—Hansel C. Howe.
Traps—Louis Barrett.
Piano—Virginia E. Sargent.

The musical numbers on the evening's program were:

Hail to the Spirit of Liberty, march... Sousa
Overture from The Pirates of St. Domingo... Beethoven
A Sure Thing, melange of popular melodies... Isoum

The school officers of the town and teachers of the school had seats on the stage. The noticeable thing about their appearance was their youthfulness.

They will average not more than thirty years, and it would seem that the care of our youth is in the hands of those not yet old enough to forget the enthusiasm that is quenched by years.

The invocation was by Rev. Caroline E. Angell of the Universalist church.

The first one of the class to appear was Orin Merton Holman of Otsfield Gore, a student in the classical course. Mr. Holman had been in the school three years, and had won this honor by his class standing. The theme for his Salutatory was "The Launching of the Ship" of individuality upon the turbulent sea of life. The three requisites for a successful voyage are first, good materials; second, intelligent building; and third, knowledge to sail the ship.

Another classical course student, Wm. Cummings Thibodeau of Norway village, was next. She told us about "A Main Purpose in Life"—a purpose that does not narrow one by becoming a sole purpose, nor become dwarfed till life is all at loose ends.

Donzella May Goodwin of Pike Hill, Norway, had completed the classical course. She takes great pride in the success which has been gained by some in "Law as a Profession for Women."

Harold Edward Beane of Norway village, academic course. His essay was on "The Value of Conflict" of the struggle for existence in which finally only the strongest survive.

Ernest Holmes Swett of Norway village discussed the "Relations Between the South and the Negro." He told of the superhuman burden which the presence of so great numbers of a less civilized race impress upon the white people of the South. Mr. Swett's diploma reads "academic course."

Fannie Greenleaf Hobbs of Norway village was excused from speaking. Her essay was entitled "Frances Willard—A Life Sketch." She graduated from the academic course.

Eva Myrt French of the academic course is another of our Norway village girls. She had made a pretty study of Hawthorne's wonderful story of "The Great Stone Face."

Elizabeth June Leavitt of Norway village earned her diploma in the academic course. She was class historian and greatly amused the audience with her descriptions of things and people of the school life. One unpleasant thing is the fact that the class entered the high school numbering twenty-eight; of whom one is dead, one has completed the course otherwise, sixteen have fallen by the wayside and four joined at a later date, so that only fourteen came up for the diploma certifying completion of the course in the regular allotted time. There is something wrong somewhere.

There ought to have been thirty graduates.

Fred Rowe, Jr., of Oxford had studied in the classical course, and had also kept a good record in his studies. He played more "Gymnasium for Our High Schools." Admitting occasional injury to some one from athletic training or exercise, it was also true that many times the number of injured is the number benefited and benefited greatly.

Irene Frances Hazon of Norway village had climbed the hill and heard the whispering "Voice from the Pine" as the old tree related to the young tree the tale of the village in the vale below. She graduated from the classical course.

Bertha Hill Mann of Norway village was class poet, and had taken the classical course. Her poem was a vision of the future which will follow the "Dawn of the Twentieth Century." Miss Mann also wrote the class ode.

Charles Pendexter Durell of Oxford village told of "The Mysteries of Life" of how from a blow or a bump we learn of the consistency of things and from contact with fire or frost of the properties of matter, and of so many other things about which we may not learn. He has taken the classical course.

Frieda Helen Schaner of Norway village was prophetess. She has been a student in the scientific course. The futures of her classmates were read from a basket of flowers. A yellow rose foretold for Edna a life of solitude; a closed pink for Charles a career as tax collector and veterinary surgeon; a tulip for Fannie a European trip and wedding and matronly life as mistress of the poor at Norway town farm; two red roses tied together a life of wedded bliss for Harold and Myrt as missionaries to the heathen in Africa; a poppy for May, a life of travel as a woman's rights lecturer and finally a home of her own in China; a tall lily for Donzella, career first as a trick bicyclist and later, a life partner of Dr. Durell; a sweet briar for Fred the outdoor occupation of a fish peddler; a yellow chrysanthemum for Bertha unrequited love and earning her own living by teaching the young how to conjugate "amo;" a single white rose for Orin a checkered career including both circus and pulpit; two salmon pinks tied together that Ernest would play the hand organ while June took up a collection in a tin dipper; and a bluish rose for Irene life in an old maid's home and later in the Salvation Army.

Edna Idelle Brown of North Norway has patiently studied in the scientific course, and in doing so won the honors of the class on graduation day. Her Valedictory theme was "No Battle, No Victory."

The class came on the stage together and a handsome sight they were, the young men in black and the young women in white with a touch of red somewhere about the costume. Superintendent Charles P. Barnes gave the diplomas and then awarded the Seitz prize, twenty-five dollars in gold, given by Don C. Seitz of New York, to Bertha Idelle Brown, the one who during the four years of the full high school course had maintained the highest rank of the class.

The class ode was sung to the tune of And Lang Syne.

To-night, dear friends, we bid adieu To schoolmates and to true, But hold their memory dear friends, Who, on our changing way, Through all our youthful weal and woe, Have guarded us with watchful care,— To these we bid adieu.

Ab, many happy days we've passed In our dear High School here; Yes, days that we shall never forget, But hold their memory dear friends, "Not for ourselves alone," but through Many a long year.

To each other and to others We'll bear our school-days' cheer. And now on life's broad sea we launch, From home star to roam, Though some may seek its depths, And others sail the ocean foam, If we meet here no more, On some foreign shore, Dear friends, again we will gather As in school-days of yore.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Bates S. Rideout of the Congregational church.

After the close of the exercises a reception was enjoyed by class and friends.

We wish to say an especial word of praise for their speaking. There was not one who faltered the essay in a voice easily understood in any part of the opera house.

The Ball on Friday Evening.

It was a rainy evening and the attendance was small, less than fifty couples participating in the evening's pleasures.

Musical was by Stearns' orchestra, and an order of eighteen dances was enjoyed. Cake and ices were served. The door manager was Charles S. Akers, and the aids were Ernest H. Swett, Fred Rowe, Jr., Jameson L. Finney, Charles P. Durell, Arthur H. Bodkin and Irving Thibodeau.

The Best of All.
Everyone who has used Baxter's Mandrake Bitters as a spring remedy, or for constipation, biliousness, foul stomach, sick headache, impure blood, pronounce it the "best of all medicine" for those ailments. If you have not used it, ask some of your friends about it; the chances are that the first person you ask will tell you that there is no medicine so good for them as Baxter's Mandrake Bitters. Get it at any drug store for 25 cents. Guaranteed to cure or money refunded.

Unnecessary Loss of Time.
Mr. W. S. Whedon, Cashier of the First National Bank of Winterset, Iowa, in a recent letter gives some experience with the carpenter in his employ, that will be of value to other mechanics. He says: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhea. I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought a bottle of it from the druggist here and informed me that one dose cured him, and he is again at his work."

A Worthy Successor.
"Something New Under The Sun."
All Doctors have tried to cure
CATARRH by the use of powders, acid creams, inhalers and drugs in paste form.
Their powders dry up the mucous membranes causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away
the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner, who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of CATARRH, has at last perfected a treatment which has been faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures CATARRH by removing the cause, stopping the discharges, and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the afflicted parts.
This wonderful remedy is known as
"SNUFFLES" the GUARANTEED CAT-TARRH CURE and is sold at the extra low price of One Dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine sufficient for a full month's treatment and everything necessary to its perfect use.

"SNUFFLES" is the only perfect CATARRH CURE ever made and is now recognized as the only safe and effective cure for that annoying and distressing disease. It cures all inflammation quickly and permanently and is also wonderfully quick to relieve HAY FEVER or COLD IN THE HEAD.

CATARRH when neglected often leads to CONSUMPTION—"SNUFFLES" will save you if you use it at once. It is no ordinary remedy, but a complete treatment which is positively guaranteed to cure CATARRH in any form or stage if used according to the directions which accompany each package. Don't delay but send for it at once, and write full particulars as to your condition, and you will receive special advice from the discoverer of this wonderful remedy regarding your case without cost to you beyond the regular price of "SNUF-FLES" the "GUARANTEED CAT-TARRH CURE."
